

Description of the make payment use case:

The "Make Payment" use case allows a traveler to select a payment method and authenticate the payment for a cruise room reservation. The traveler can choose to pay via a credit card, a PayPal account, or direct deposit from a bank account. The use case also handles the refund of the payment in case of a cancellation. The authentication process ensures secure payment and prevents fraudulent transactions.